

Program Data

Social Security

The Social Security program—Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (OASDI)—provides monthly benefits to workers and their families when the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled. The amount of the worker's retirement insurance (old-age) or disability benefit is based on the worker's level of earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security program. Monthly benefits are payable to retired workers at age 62 (with reduced benefits) or to disabled workers at any age. The benefit amount for an auxiliary or survivor beneficiary is based on a percentage of the worker's benefit. Auxiliary and survivor beneficiaries must generally meet an age, disability, or child care requirement.

A total of 47,053,140 persons received benefits for December 2003. This number included 29,547,530 retired workers, 4,898,040 widows and widowers, 5,867,460 disabled workers, 2,773,630 wives and husbands, and 3,966,480 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 15.8 percent of the total population and 90.8 percent of the population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers received an average monthly benefit of $922; widows and widowers, $866 (nondisabled widows and widowers, $888); disabled workers, $862; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $450. Average benefits for children of retired, deceased, and disabled workers were $446, $603, and $254, respectively.

Monthly benefits for December 2003 totaled $39.6 billion. Of this amount, $28.7 billion was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $5.4 billion to survivors, and $5.5 billion to disabled workers and their spouses and children. Average and total monthly benefits include the 2.1 percent cost-of-living increase effective December 2003.

In Delaware, benefits were paid to 144,530 persons. This number included 93,970 retired workers, 13,380 widows and widowers, 18,350 disabled workers, 7,180 wives and husbands, and 11,650 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 17.3 percent of the total population of the state and 93.8 percent of the state's population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers in Delaware received an average of $967 per month; widows and widowers, $926; disabled workers, $901; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $502. Average benefits for children were $464 for children of retired workers, $642 for children of deceased workers, and $267 for children of disabled workers.

Monthly benefits for December 2003 totaled $129 million. Of this amount, $95 million was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $16 million to survivors, and $18 million to disabled workers and their spouses and children.

Supplemental Security Income

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal cash assistance program that provides monthly payments to low-income aged, blind, and disabled persons in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The program is based on nationally uniform eligibility standards and payment levels. The federal SSI payment is determined by the recipient's countable income, living arrangement, and marital status. As of January 2004, the maximum monthly federal SSI payment for an individual living in his or her own household and with no other countable income is $564, and for a couple, $846.

A state may supplement the payment levels of all or selected categories of recipients. These supplemental payments may be administered by the state or the Social Security Administration.

In December 2003, 6,902,364 persons received federally administered SSI payments: 1,232,778 were aged and 5,669,586 were disabled or blind. A total of 1,989,737 recipients were aged 65 or older, 3,953,248 were aged 18 to 64, and 959,379 were under 18.

The total number of persons receiving a Social Security payment, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 51,534,142. Federally administered payments totaled $3.1 billion in December 2003: $2.7 billion in federal SSI payments and $357 million in state supplements. The average federally administered payment was $417. Aged persons averaged $342, and disabled and blind persons, $433.

In addition, 551,469 persons in 31 states received state-administered payments in December 2003 that totaled $68.6 million.

In Delaware, 12,930 persons—1,304 aged and 11,626 disabled and blind—received federally administered SSI payments in December 2003. A total of 2,416 recipients were aged 65 or older, 7,544 were aged 18 to 64, and 2,970 were under 18.

Federally administered SSI payments totaled $5.3 million, of which $5.2 million was federal SSI and $85,376 was state supplementation. The average federally administered payment was $378 overall: $243 for aged recipients and $393 for disabled and blind recipients.

In December 2003, the total number of persons in Delaware receiving a Social Security benefit, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 153,155.

Program Data

Social Security

The Social Security program—Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (OASDI)—provides monthly benefits to workers and their families when the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled. The amount of the worker's retirement insurance (old-age) or disability benefit is based on the worker's level of earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security program. Monthly benefits are payable to retired workers at age 62 (with reduced benefits) or to disabled workers at any age. The benefit amount for an auxiliary or survivor beneficiary is based on a percentage of the worker's benefit. Auxiliary and survivor beneficiaries must generally meet an age, disability, or child care requirement.

A total of 47,053,140 persons received benefits for December 2003. This number included 29,547,530 retired workers, 4,898,040 widows and widowers, 5,867,460 disabled workers, 2,773,630 wives and husbands, and 3,966,480 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 15.8 percent of the total population and 90.8 percent of the population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers received an average monthly benefit of $922; widows and widowers, $866 (non-disabled widows and widowers, $888); disabled workers, $862; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $450. Average benefits for children of retired, deceased, and disabled workers were $446, $603, and $254, respectively.

Monthly benefits for December 2003 totaled $39.6 billion. Of this amount, $28.7 billion was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $5.4 billion to survivors, and $5.5 billion to disabled workers and their spouses and children. Average and total monthly benefits include the 2.1 percent cost-of-living increase effective December 2003.

In Virginia, benefits were paid to 1,092,310 persons. This number included 678,480 retired workers, 112,710 widows and widowers, 147,530 disabled workers, 59,530 wives and husbands, and 94,060 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 14.8 percent of the total population of the state and 91.2 percent of the state's population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers in Virginia received an average of $904 per month; widows and widowers, $829; disabled workers, $864; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $455. Average benefits for children were $470 for children of retired workers, $622 for children of deceased workers, and $259 for children of disabled workers.

Monthly benefits for December 2003 totaled $904 million. Of this amount, $644 million was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $121 million to survivors, and $139 million to disabled workers and their spouses and children.

Supplemental Security Income

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal cash assistance program that provides monthly payments to low-income aged, blind, and disabled persons in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The program is based on nationally uniform eligibility standards and payment levels. The federal SSI payment is determined by the recipient's countable income, living arrangement, and marital status. As of January 2004, the maximum monthly federal SSI payment for an individual living in his or her own household and with no other countable income is $564, and for a couple, $846.

A state may supplement the payment levels of all or selected categories of recipients. These supplemental payments may be administered by the state or the Social Security Administration.

In December 2003, 6,902,364 persons received federally administered SSI payments: 1,232,778 were aged and 5,669,586 were disabled or blind. A total of 1,989,737 recipients were aged 65 or older, 3,953,248 were aged 18 to 64, and 959,379 were under 18.

The total number of persons receiving a Social Security payment, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 51,534,142. Federally administered payments totaled $3.1 billion in December 2003: $2.7 billion in federal SSI payments and $357 million in state supplements. The average federally administered payment was $417. Aged persons averaged $342, and disabled and blind persons, $433.

In addition, 551,469 persons in 31 states received state-administered payments in December 2003 that totaled $68.6 million.

In Virginia, 133,607 persons—22,155 aged and 111,452 disabled and blind—received federally administered SSI payments in December 2003. A total of 36,767 recipients were aged 65 or older, 76,550 were aged 18 to 64, and 20,290 were under 18.

Federal SSI payments totaled $52.1 million. The average federal payment was $363 overall: $260 for aged recipients and $383 for disabled and blind recipients. In addition, 6,328 persons in Virginia received state-administered supplementation in December 2003 that totaled $1.6 million.

In December 2003, the total number of persons in Virginia receiving a Social Security benefit, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 1,175,999.
